WARNED OF PLOT

Receives a Letter Saying That an Attempt Was
To Be Made on His Life.

ON HIS WAY SOUTH

The Chief Executive Arrived Safely at Memphis—Evades
Guard Every Chance
That He Gets.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Memphis, Nov. 13.—President Roosevelt and party arrived here safely this morning. A great crowd was at the depot to greet him and he was given a most enthusiastic welcome by nearly half the city. The President had rested well and had slept since he left Louisville so that he was ready to greet his hosts.

Plot Disclosed
It was learned this morning that a merchant in one of the towns visited had sent a letter to the President announcing the fact that an attempt would be made to kill him at one of the stations the train stopped at. The secret service men were very watchful.

Roosevelt Confident
At every stopping place the President got off the train and walked up and down the platform despite Secretary Cortelyou's admonitions not to. He would frequently slip away from the secret service men.
Could Defend Himself
He said that he would not make himself miserable by dodging an imaginary enemy and if one came he would defend himself.

of Waterford, has obtained a judgment against prominent Irish leaders amounting to $27,800 for boycotting his business.

SHOOTS FRIEND WITH PISTOL

Marinette Girl Pulls Trigger Twice and Cartridge Explodes.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 13.—Miss Alice Hessel lies in a critical condition in a Marinette hospital as the result of having been shot by Annie Ziegenhagen, 16 years old. Miss Hessel is a friend of Miss Ziegenhagen and was visiting her on a farm near Pound.
Miss Ziegenhagen picked up a revolver and pulled the trigger twice. The second time the hammer fell it exploded a cartridge, the bullet striking the guest in the head. Miss Ziegenhagen thought the weapon was not loaded.

SPANIARDS GIVE PROTECTION

Mail Steamer to Embark Europeans at Tetuan, Morocco.

Gibraltar, Nov. 13.—Owing to the fact that serious disturbances have broken out at Tetuan, Morocco, a Spanish mail steamer has been dispatched from Ceuta to embark the European residents of Tetuan. There has been political unrest in Morocco recently, as well as fears of a general rebellion and an attempt to restore Mulai-Mohamed, the sultan's brother, as sultan.

Hominy Mills Burn.

Czar Confers Distinction on Retiring Ambassador Tower, Expressing Friendship.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—Ambassador Tower, who was recently transferred to Berlin, and Mrs. Tower leave here tomorrow by a special car attached to the Zebastopol Express and placed at their disposal by Prince Chilkoff, minister of ways and communications, on their way to Livadia, where the czar has invited Mrs. Tower to call on him. This is a special distinction, as the rule was long since established forbidding formal receptions at Livadia. The most important foreign delegations have frequently had to await the czar's return to St. Petersburg.

The new French ambassador, M.
Bompard, is now awaiting for the return of the czar to St. Petersburg before he can assume his duties, though he was appointed to his position two months ago.

NO BAIL ACCEPTED

Sweetheart Had Dead Girl's
Jewelry—His Clothes Badly Stained with Blood.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Boston, Nov. 13.—From all the evidence now in the hands of the police it is thought that George Perry, the negro arrested as a witness in the Morton murder case is the real culprit and he is held without bail.

Two Murders Charged
He is now charged not only with the murder of Clara Morton but also with that of Agnes McPhee. Jewelry from both of the dead girls has been recovered from the colored sweetheart of Perry.

Clothes Examined
Perry has been stripped of his clothing as blood stains were detected and the cloth will be examined by the chemist professor of Harvard university, with a view of deciding the exact facts.

STEAMER MEETS AN ACCIDENT
Runs Afloat of the Wrecked Bridge and Loses Its Top Mast.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
New York, Nov. 13.—The steamer
City of Worcester of the Norwich line fouled the wreckage of the New East river bridge this morning and lost its after topmast. It was snapped like a toothpick when it came in contact with the wreckage, flew into the air, and fell end on, piercing two holes in the steamer's decks. No one was injured and the boat proceeded to its pier at the foot of Canal street in the North River.

F. C. ANDREWS WEARS STRIPES AT JACKSON
Convicted Banker Fails to Furnish Bail and Is Taken to the State's Prison.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13.—Frank C.
Andrews, who wrecked the City Savings bank, of which he was vice president, has gone to Jackson prison in the custody of Sheriff Dickson to begin his term of fifteen years. Andrews had failed to secure bondsmen who could qualify in the stipulated sum of $200,000. If he does not get a new trial, the arguments for which will be heard by Recorder Murphy, who sentenced him. Andrews will serve about eleven years, provided he merits the usual time allowed for good behavior.
Andrews kept up his nerve to the last,
even joking with friends who called to bid him good-by.

International Arbitration.
Pekin, Nov. 13.—Germany has agreed to the American proposal to ceeds of the tax of 1 cent per pound levied in gold on the export from the coffee crop, has paid the interest due in January, 1903, on the bonds of 1884.

CLEARED OF DEBT, STILL PAYS ALL

Bankruptcy Court Freed a Man, But He Pays His Creditors
$700,000.

New York, Nov. 13.—Seven years ago David Rothschild, who was head of the R. Rothschild Sons company, which failed in the financial panic of
'93 and '94 found that his personal fortune of $2,500,000 had been swept away and that he was penniless, and owed nearly $700,000. Although legally freed of his debts by the bankruptcy court, he has paid them all,
and is today president of the Federal Bank of New York, which was opened about a month ago at 530 Broadway.

Big Company
The R. Rothschild Sons company manufactured woodwork and safe fixtures, having houses in London, and Paris, factories in this city, Chicago, and Cincinnati, and branches in the west and south. The company employed 4,000 men.

In the early nineties, according to Mr. Rothschild, the company, through an unfortunate deal with some lumber men, lost $400,000. Then came the period of business depression, which crippled the company's business to such an extent that it went under.

Mr. Rothschild and his brother Louis gave over all of their money and property in settlement of claims against the company. The Rothschild brothers found, after everything available had been disposed of, that they still owed $700,000.

Passed Bankruptcy
After the bankruptcy law of 1898 was passed David Rothschild, on the first day that it went in force, filed a petition in bankruptcy. When he got through with the bankruptcy court, Mr. Rothschild says he had less than $2. The first thing that he did was to borrow enough money to pay for a railroad ticket to Chicago. His object in going to Chicago was to make a small loan, $50,000 on no security.

"The man I got that money from," said Mr. Rothschild today, "is known on two continents. I had no security, and told him so, but he had confidence in me."

With his brother he established a private banking business under the name of D. Rothschild & Co. Once
Mr. Rothschild began to make money he started a systematic payment of his debts.

ROOSEVELT'S PLAN TO CHECK TRUSTS
President's Message Will Explain to Congress His Views as Outlined by Knox.

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Roosevelt is expected to attack the trusts in his annual message, chiefly along the lines indicated by Attorney General Knox in his Pittsburgh speech.
Congress will be told, it is understood, that there is an opportunity to curb the trusts and a possibility to repress all their pernicious activity by means of a series of judicious amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law. This, of course, would not interfere in any way with a vigorous campaign for a constitutional amendment providing for publicity under direct national control of large corporations.

Trust Paragraph
The President's paragraph on trusts, it is believed will point the way for immediate legislation. Amendments to the existing anti-trust law will be suggested which would permit the federal courts to assume jurisdiction of production of goods intended for transportation between the states.

To facilitate the work of congress the machinery of the department of justice is now in full operation with the purpose of formulating an omnibus bill providing for a number of amendments, both to the anti-trust and interstate commerce laws. Under instructions from the attorney general clerks are at work at the capitol going through the files and securing copies of all bills introduced in the past covering the whole question of the negotiation of corporations.

The Best Features
The intention is to take the best features of each measure and embody them in the proposed amendments.
The attorney general, as he said in his Pittsburgh speech, is convinced that many of the evils now complained of can be reached by the simple process of amending existing laws.

LOVER SUICIDES AT A HOTEL
Monroe County Farmer While in Madison, Turns on the Gas and Goes to Bed.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—George W.
Bacon, of Catawag, Monroe county, was found dead in his room at the Capital house this morning. The gas jet was open, an dit is believed to be a case of suicide. He had been at the hotel for two days registering as Smith. Papers in his pockets showed he owned a $5,000 farm near Catawag which he was about to transfer and letters showed he wanted to get married. One was from a southern woman, who was willing, but was afraid that the northern climate was too cold, and wanted him to come south. Bacon was about fifty years old.

Gompers Condemns Harvard College Man for Calling a Strike Breaker
a Hero.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
New Orleans, Nov. 13.—The twenty-second annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was called to order this morning. President Gompers in his reply of welcome made some significant remarks.

Scores Elliott
He roundly scored President Elliott of Harvard for a statement he made some time ago that a strike breaker was a hero. He said that if a strike breaker was a hero then Benedict Arnold was a patriot.

Goes Further
He also made his denunciation more pointed by saying that if Elliott's statement was true then Judas Iscar-iot was a saint. No business of importance was accomplished at the session.

MOLINEUX TRIALS COST MUCH MONEY

The State of New York Was Forced to Pay Nearly Five Hundred Thousand Dollars.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
New York, Nov. 13.—It is estimated that the two trials of Roland Molineux have cost the state of New York in the neighborhood of half a million of dollars. The first trial cost $250,000 and the one which has just finished in the prisoners' acquittal cost nearly as much. Molineux will himself go immediately into business to pay back his father for the money expended for his defense.

SERIOUS TROUBLE

sent to the scene to bring off the European residents who wish to leave the country in a hurry.

SAGASTA HAVING MUCH TROUBLE

He May Not Be Able to Fill the Spanish Cabinet with Suitable Men.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Madrid, Nov. 13.—Premier Sagasta is having difficulty in filling out his cabinet as he would have it and may have to report to the King that he can not do it at all.

EXPRESS COMPANIES CURTAIL BUSINESS

Issue Orders to Agents Not to Accept Packages of Liquor That Are Billed C. O. D.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 13.—The superintendents of express companies doing business in Iowa have issued positive orders to their agents in other states not to accept C. O. D. shipments of intoxicating liquors for delivery to Iowa points. This is in accordance with the recent decision of the state Supreme court. Carrying C. O. D. liquor packages has been a considerable part of the business of the express companies since prohibition went into force in Iowa and these orders will curtail their business materially. At the same time it will cause rejoicing among the advocates of total abstinence, who have found that the ability of the express companies to deal in liquors was a serious hindrance to the enforcement of prohibition.

Kills a Ball Player.
Fort Scott, Kas., Nov. 13.—Frank Brunner, a baseball player who formerly played in eastern leagues, was shot and killed here by Charles Parmenter, proprietor of a "blind pig."
The men had quarreled while drinking together.

Mine Is Burning.
Shamokin, Pa., Nov. 13.—The Burnside shaft, which employs 700 men and boys, is on fire. All of the miners got out in safety. The mine is owned by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company.

HOST MASSACRED
BY ANGRY BOXERS

Seven Hundred Roman Catholics Are Reported as Slain in One Place.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Victoria, B. C., Nov. 13.—Mail advices from China say that in Sze-Chuan the Boxer movement still progresses. The Boxers have plundered all of the villages between Sze-Chuan
and Cheng-Lu, and in one place massacred 1,700 Roman Catholic converts. When the last advices were received at Shanghai from Cheng-Tu-Yangshu it was besieged by Boxers and the gates of several cities near by were kept closed.

A proclamation has been posted at Cheng-Tu offering 100 taels for the head of each Boxer captured within the city.

The rebellion in Kwangsi, some time ago reported to have been suppressed, has been revived. The rebels captured Hochinchoh in Chin-Wan-Fu, secured the sub prefect and placed him in his own prison. After pillaging this place they attacked and took Lin Chin Fu, a prefectural city.
Large numbers of the Kottahul, a new secret society, which is both anti-foreign and anti-dynastic, have joined

MANY EMIGRATE ACROSS BORDER

WISCONSIN RESIDENTS SEEK NEW HOMES IN CANADA.

TAKE UP GOVERNMENT LANDS

Canadian Government Offers Inducements Which Are Accepted by Many People Annually.

Wisconsin sent 1234 emigrants to Canada during the fiscal year which closed June 30. These took with them to their new homesteads in the northwest provinces eighty-seven carloads of household goods, stock and farm implements, and money amounting to $4,500,000. This has been the result of the persistent and systematic effort of the Canadian government to get settlers into the northwest territory, but Wisconsin is not the only state in the union and the United States is not the only country on the globe that has furnished settlers for Canada. Other states have sent approximately the same number of emigrants, and almost every civilized country has sent some settlers into Manitoba, British Columbia, Assiniboia and Alberta.

Canada Branching Out
This information was given out yesterday by Canadian Agent T. O. Currie, when asked if the branching out of the Canadian emigration office at London included any new plans. According to Mr. Currie the Canadian government is not attempting to drain Wisconsin or any other state of its good citizens or its industrious and thrifty farmers, but it is simply offering under its new homestead act free farms to any and all settlers over 18 years of age. The change in the office at London does not mean that there will be any changes in the plans of the government regarding this work, which it considers most important. It is simply a continuation of the work which was begun in a small way in 1896, when the government undertook the publication of a great mass of literature for distribution throughout the world over.

"We want no better class of citizens than we get from Wisconsin," said Mr. Currie. "They are thrifty and industrious and are not afraid of work. That's the kind of people we must have to make good pioneers."

Will Not Hurt Wisconsin
"I don't think Wisconsin is suffering any from the movement, however, for all those who leave this state sell their farms for cash to eastern people who are looking for improved farms. The emigrants go up into the northwest territory and secure free lands there, improve them and make for themselves comfortable homes in the wilderness. While the country is open to all nationalities and creeds, the majority of the emigrants are either Canadians or descendants of Canadians, though they are all thorough Americans."

"What part of Wisconsin has sent the greatest number of emigrants to Canada? It's hard to tell. They are from all sections, from the Illinois line to the shores of Lake Superior. We took 140 from Clark county, but several other counties in the northern part of the state equaled that figure."

KINODROME CLOSED ITS ENGAGEMENT

Gave as Good Satisfaction as on the Preceding Evenings—Excellent Colored Slides.

At the Myers Grand last evening the Kinodrome closed its three nights engagement. Not as many were present as on the earlier nights, but those who were were well pleased with the moving pictures. The slides used for the illustrated songs, especially, were of a much higher grade than those which are commonly used for that purpose. Only a few of the views had been given before, and those were welcomed as old friends, rather than as unwelcome guests.

ROSEBUD INDIAN AGENCY LANDS

Likely to be Opened For Settlement
—Railroad Now Building Direct Line From Chicago.

The extension of the Chicago and North-Western Ry. to the Rosebud country will soon be completed to Bonesteel, which is located directly on the border of the reservation lands which are to be thrown open for public settlement next spring. It is expected that when the lands are opened a tremendous rush will be made for homesteads. Much interest is being taken in the matter throughout the West. The new line was opened to Spencer, Neb., October 24th, and will be open to Bonesteel, the terminus of the line within a few days. The Rosebud reservation is located in the southern part of South Dakota, on the state line of Nebraska, bordered by the White river on the north and Missouri on the east.

WILL INSPECT THE G. A. R. POST

A. Weigle of Milton, Will Come Here
Friday, to Look Over W. H. Sargent Post.

On Friday evening the W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20, Grand Army of the Republic, will be informally inspected. A. Weigle, of Milton, will be the inspecting officer, but owing to the hours at which the train runs, it will be impossible for the usual ceremonies to be gone through with, and the actual business of the inspection will be dispatched as rapidly as possible.

L. H. Lee of the local post is the inspecting officer of this district, which includes Milton, Evansville, Heiligt, Sharon and Clinton. An officer never inspects his own post and so Mr. Weigle, who is properly the inspecting officer of another district will look over the books of this post, and make inquiries into the work which is being done.

All of the inspection reports of the different posts must be in, made up and filed with the Adjutant General at Madison by December 31st, but in many cities the officers will not make their rounds for some time to come. Mr. Lee will not start out until the 26th of this month to inspect the posts of his district.

MAIL HAS BEEN OPENED AGAIN

League of Education Has Been Allowed to Continue Business Under Name League of Equity.

Those who invested in the League of Education, that "get rich quick" company whose mails were stopped by the government as fraudulent, are now satisfied that the concern is all right. A short time after their mail was stopped, notices were sent to all investors asking that they address in the future the "League of Equity." They have also sent in their certificates of membership, and have received in return new certificates in the league under the new name. One of the men who has been most interested in the league from the outset, explains the removal of the government ban against the mail addressed to the company. He says that the courts gave a decision against the company on the ground that the name "League of Education" was misleading, but allowed their mails to be continued under the changed name.

SPOKE UPON THE POWER OF PRAYER

C. N. Hunt Gave Masterly Address at the Baptist Church—Bible Classes of Growing Popularity.

Charles N. Hunt, the lawyer evangelist spoke last evening to an audience which nearly filled the Baptist church. His topic was the power of prayer, a subject which was ably and logically handled. The 11th verse of the ninth chapter of Acts was taken as a text from which to develop the theme: "Inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus; for, behold he prayeth."

Mr. King led the singing and played the violin as usual. In the singing a large chorus choir assisted materially. For this evening a sound and deep question is announced: "Will God Punish Sin?" The meeting will begin promptly at 7:15 so that the children who are to sing in a choir which has been drilling each afternoon, may be able to reach their homes at an early hour.

Each afternoon a large number have attended the excellent Bible study classes. Although it was not so announced in the leaflets a Bible study class will be held tomorrow afternoon. At the closing hour of the schools of the city, a special Bible meeting will also be held on that day for the children.

Mr. Hunt spoke strongly of the subject which he is to discuss on Friday night, "The Law and the Gospel." It is a topic which deals directly with his own personal experiences, and he says that in the past he has invariably proven the best drawing of all of his addresses, even surpassing at times the Sunday services in point of numbers.

The National Result.
"Yes, sir, we turned in and elected that chap on a reform ticket, and inside of a month he had every one of our fellows put off the pay roll. It was a regular boomerang of an election, by George!" "Well, what else could you expect of the Australian ballot?"—Chicago Tribune.

WAS OBLIGED TO GIVE UP LECTURE

Through Lack of Advertising Dr. Mak Failed to Attract Many to the G. A. R. Hall.

Dr. Mak, the "How to Keep Well" specialist, attempted to give another lecture on health in the G. A. R. hall last evening, but barely a dozen were present, and he was obliged to give up and dismiss his small audience. He also decided to cancel the date which he had for tonight to give another lecture. He did not close the hall last evening, however, until the concert program had been given, and those few who were present were loud in their praises. Mrs. Opal Mak played in a pleasing manner on the zither, piano and guitar, displaying a great degree of versatility. She also sang several songs, and was accompanied in one of them by her husband.

Those who heard the lecture on the first evening, and those who listened to the concert program last evening were well pleased with the doctor and his wife. The complete fiasco of the series of three addresses and programs seemed to be due entirely to a lack of publicity, practically no attempts having been made at advertising, aside from a half dozen display cards, inconspicuously placed in the store windows.

RUNAWAY CAUSED SOME EXCITEMENT

Horse Belonging to Rufus Resseguie Made Things Lively for a Few Minutes.

A horse belonging to Rufus Resseguie, created some excitement on East Milwaukee St. yesterday afternoon by kicking himself loose from a wagon to which he was hitched and running away. He was caught without much trouble and the only damage was to the harness which broke and caused the trouble in the first place.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Mr. Jolly of Joliet
Pretty girls, catchy music, witty dialogue and comic situations are pleasing features in Charles Newman's big extravaganza, "Mr. Jolly of Joliet." This play has been placed under the direction of Broadcast & Currie, the popular managers who have so successfully starred Mason and Mason in "Rudolph and Adolph," which is also from the pen of Charles Newman. The company selected to present "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," is a large one and involves the names of several artists who have been featured in several of the important musical comedies of late seasons. Edward Garvie created many characters in the Hoyt farces that have since become famous. John Allison last season starred in Broadhurst's, "The Wrong Mr. Wright" and has been prominent in several comic opera organizations. Julian Byrd is a composer and a musical artist of note. The Premier Quartette, Ada Deaves, Madge Lawrence, Molly Thompson, Maude Allison and many others appear in the company which includes a large chorus. "Mr. Jolly of Joliet" comes to the Myers Grand, Friday evening, Nov. 14.

Tim Murphy
Tim Murphy's revival of "Old Innocence" this season, is as welcome a bit of news as theatergoers of this city could wish for.

So great was his success during the two years he played this comedy that he could have continued in it the past four seasons instead of bringing out new plays, but Mr. Murphy is not only ambitious, he has a great fear of becoming too closely identified with one part.

It is almost impossible to think of Joseph Jefferson in anything but "Rip Van Winkle" or of O'Neill in "Monte Cristo," and Louis Morrison as "Nephews" in "Faust," and our younger actors are taking care not to run the same risk, but it looked at the beginning of Mr. Murphy's career as if Maverick Brander, in "A Texas Steer," would handicap him.

CO. BOARD VOTES IT DOWN

Sheriff-Elect Appleby Wanted $200 Increase in Fund—Report of Equalization Committee.

The county board of supervisors convened this morning at 10 o'clock at county clerk's office. Chairman White presiding. The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

The petition for the vacation of a portion of a road in the towns of Johnston and Harmony which was presented Wednesday and referred to committee No. 12 was taken up at 11 o'clock and J. A. Paul, J. E. Gleason and J. D. Gouffrey were appointed a committee to attend to the matter. The sum of $1500 was transferred from the general fund to the county purchasing agents. A resolution addressed to the senator and members of the assembly from Rock county, requesting that they secure legislation this winter so that no inquests will be held on dead bodies except on the recommendation of the district attorney, was introduced by Supervisor S. S. Jones and adopted.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order on the treasurer for $19.50, payable to the trustees of the insane asylum and poor house and the committee on public buildings, on account of the erection of a water tower and water works at the county farm. The county clerk was instructed to have a slip printed and pasted in the tax books calling the attention of the treasurer to the fact that the name of the person paying the taxes and the date of the same was often omitted, and to see that this is not done in the future.

The county supervisor of assessment was instructed to prepare schedules for the several assessors in the county before May 1, 1903 and file them ten days before the board meets so the equalization committee can have the benefit of his conclusions, and the assessors can work along more uniform lines in making their assessments.

The special committee to which was referred the matter of making a contract with the incoming sheriff, George M. Appleby, reported that Mr. Appleby had consented to take $2,500 in addition to the $1,000 salary as fixed by the board. The chairman of the board was instructed to sign the contract.

The special committee appointed at the January meeting of the board to confer with the officers of the Boys' Home industrial school in regard to a reduction in the price of board presented a report stating that the board had been reduced from $2.50 to $2 per week.

The resignation of George M. Appleby as district poor master to take effect January 1, 1903, was presented and accepted.

George Seegmiller was the unanimous choice of the board for the position resigned by George M. Appleby. The finance committee presented a long list of bills with their recommendation of the amount to be allowed on each which was adopted.

The supervisor of assessment's bill of $450 for services was referred back to the finance committee on motion of Supervisor Jones that it be reduced to $225. The consideration of the bill was finally postponed until the January meeting of the board. The district attorney's account for expenses was referred back to the finance committee with instructions to separate the items for services inside the county and outside of the county.

The Soldiers' Monument committee was instructed to incase the monument with an iron fence.

The board then adjourned until 1:30 p. m. The afternoon session of the county board yesterday was devoted largely to the consideration of a contract presented by George M. Appleby, the incoming sheriff, a report of the soldiers' relief committee, also the reports of the trustees of the Rock County Insane asylum and poor house.

The contract with the county which Sheriff-elect Appleby was willing to sign was that he should be paid $2,700 for keeping the prisoners besides the $1,000 salary allowed by the county. This was a raise of $200 in the substance fund and many of the board thought it a move on the part of some to raise the salary by raising the substance fund. The adoption of the contract was lost by a vote of 23 to 7. Mr. Appleby stated that if the contract was not satisfactory to the board that he would go back to the old fee system.

The equalization committee presented the following report which was signed by all but Supervisor Bowles who made a minority report.

CHANGES MADE IN NORTHWESTERN

Vanderbilts and More Now Control the Stock, and New Plans Are Made.

By clever manipulations on the board of trade the Chicago & North-western is now controlled by friends, that is the majority of the stocks is now in the hands of the Mores and Vanderbilts and it is said that they will work together in harmony. Gates and Drake have been shaken out and from plans now on foot the road will increase its capitalization to $100,000,000 within a few months.

Buy The Elkhorn
It is also rumored that a special meeting has been called by the heads of the road for the purpose of discussing the purchasing of the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri valley railroad. This means a big consolidation of the railway interests of the Northwest and a much larger amount of road bed to travel over under one system.

Milton Junction People Say Goodbye to R. J. Greenman.

R. J. Greenman, of Milton Junction, father of Mrs. Stella Holmes, of this city, was the guest of honor at a large reception given as a farewell party for him at the P. H. hall, Milton Junction, Tuesday evening. Mr. Greenman is to leave soon for his future home in Williamsburg, Va., and Tuesday evening the hall was filled with his friends who had gathered to extend their best wishes. There was music by the band and several speeches and during the evening Mr. Greenman was presented with a purse of $50 and told to buy his own present. Mr. Greenman has resided in Milton Junction for many years, is highly esteemed and his departure is keenly regretted.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

The Opening Show.

Wednesday AND Thursday Nov. 12 and 13th.

It has been our intention to give a fall opening, but owing to the vast amount of work necessary to get our great fall and winter stock into shape, for ready selling, rush of business etc., we could not get to it earlier—However, not disparaging, although a little late, we have reserved two.. days, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 12th and 13th, for a Formal Opening, and the store will be trimmed throughout, up stairs, and down for the occasion.

It will afford the great public an excellent opportunity to see the store at its best; and also form an idea of the immensity of the stock, its wonderful completeness. We want everybody to feel free to come. In every city there is a certain proportion of the people who patronize stores in large cities through their catalogues, or visit the stores in person, without trying to find out whether articles can be obtained in the home stores. To such people we extend a special invitation to call and compare notes. Owing to the vast amount of merchandise sold by The Big Store it enables us to buy goods from manufacturers and commission men who sell only to the wholesale trade, or the largest retailers. While our prices may not always be lower than others, in many instances one will find that

PUBLICATION OF NEWS RESENTED

Item in a Recent Gazette Brings Forth a Reply from an Interested Party.

The communication printed below is published without editing or any correction as to punctuation or spelling whatsoever. The reader is left to decide the force of its logical arguments without any aid from the Gazette.

Resurrection of a Corpse
A few days ago there appeared in the Janesville Gazette, a very plausible article condemning the system of the League of Education, which was introduced in this city about the middle of Aug. This article concluded with the feeble remark by saying it was a fake scheme, because some court had decided it so.

The logical reasoning of the writer of that article, readily called to my mind an incident that took place in our community a few days prior to the election. It seemed that two lads were endeavoring to shed luster about their playmates, by throwing some very egotistical remarks about the political issues of the coming election, which proved to be beyond one of their youthful comprehensions for he was very sorrowfully disappointed when he discovered that his ignorance of the subject much surpassed his knowing powers.

During the discussion his opponent asked him how he knew that his assertions were true. The little fellow, like all ignorant people, who are never willing to give up to a logical defeat, replied by saying "its so because ma said so, and so its so, whether it is so or not so."

The publication of such an article I apprehend is a very cunning way that some one has, of suggesting that a brief retrospection, of the old Egyptians Kings, would be rather beneficial to the citizens of Janesville. For the laboring class at that time, were coerced to worship the Sacred Bull, because the King proclaimed that there were no other gods of worship. So that was the only one.

Now if the League of Education can not be anything else but a fraud. Then let us take the old Egyptian method of reasoning or that of the two boys. But before we conclude to the most fictitious part of life let each and every one reason from a political, ethical and economic stand points. If there is any one who can not sit down with the League's realizations table in one hand and a pencil in the other, and figure out the validity of the amount to be realized by each co-operator in ten minutes let him fall back among the boy politicians, and say it can't be done because it can't be done. Then if there are others who have been endowed with a fertile brain but dare not execute the decisions of their own talent or deviate away from their present mode of living let them fall in with the Egyptian slaves. But if there are still others who dare think, which I comprehend are in a large majority, will think and fertilize their guiding faculties the League will prosper and live, and give us all the handsome return of a twelve fold ratio, or ($720 for $60.00).

Not many weeks ago, our nation was in a gigantic turmoil endeavoring to settle a cause that the supreme court, of the land, had declared to be a menace and a peril to our country, and so severely was the movement condemned by the citizens of our country, that even the executive chair proclaimed it to be a fraud, and illegitimate, and threatened to send out the nation's militia to repudiate the conduct of the advocates, of the great coal strike. And yet the strikers triumphed and succeeded in bettering their condition and demonstrated to the world the power there is to be realized from thought and investigation. Yet many people, are again, ready to let this God given faculty, lay dormant, and hug the forlorn delusion of hope until starvation stares them in the face. The greatest movement that the human race has any recollection of, was repudiated by this same force, ignorance. While Christ was suffering the untold miseries, that was attributable to the brags that they had bartered within his flesh. He still cried out Oh God forgive them for they know not what they do. Now my League friend I am prone to answer those who censure the system of the League, in the same manner as Christ did forgive them for they know not what they are doing. Signed,
E. A. McFarland.

Note:
The above decisive proof that the League of Education is a sound and business like proposition must settle all questions either the sanity of the men who invest in it or as to the logical reasoning powers of the above writer. As a bit of advice might be suggested that the writer purchase a spelling book as soon as he receives his twelve fold profits.

Post Check Currency

The fifty-seventh congress will re-assemble in a few weeks and it is widely hoped that a part of its work will be the passage of the post check currency bills, which provide for a practical and convenient method of sending small sums of money by mail. A great deal has been written upon this subject, and there are few who do not know that this method is simply an issue of currency that can be circulated as cash and also be safely remitted by mail, because when mailed it will be made payable only to the person whose name is left for that purpose.

Under the present money order system safety can be assured only at the sacrifice of convenience, and convenience can be secured only by disregarding the element of safety. The post check plan is both convenient and safe, and, being so, it is just what the people need in its line. The business interests and the press favor it with virtual if not actual unanimity, and, in fact, the full measure of its popularity it has won a warrant, in no order, for its adoption by congress.

Citizens should request their representatives in congress to see that more convenient money is furnished the people.—Lender, Binghamton, N. Y.

Leg-Crossing and Physiology
Inasmuch as crossing the legs causes hollow thighs, it may be of interest to look into the matter from a medical point and notice some evil effects of the practice. The back of the knee, as well as the front of the elbow and wrist, the groin and the armpit, contains important nerves and vessels which are not so well protected against direct pressure as similar structures in other parts of the body. This space behind the knee, bounded above by the hamstrings, or tendons of the popliteal muscles, and below by the heads of the great calf muscle, is called the popliteal space and contains two large nerves, the external and the internal popliteal nerves, which are the divisions of the great sciatic, together with the large popliteal artery and its vein, which carry the blood to and from the leg. Besides there are numerous branches supplying the joint, and also a number of small lymphatic glands. These structures are beneath the skin, embedded in fat and connective tissue, and the pulsation of the artery can often be felt; while of the nerves the external can be made out just inside the external hamstring.

Now it is the pressure upon these vessels and nerves, brought about by improperly crossing the legs, that often gives rise to serious trouble. Fortunately most of us throw the crossing leg so far over the leg crossed that the thigh of the first rests well up on the other, and the popliteal space is left free. But very often the legs are crossed in such a way that the kneecap of one fits accurately into the popliteal space of the other, thus throwing the weight of the leg upon the vessels and nerves which it contains. The leg and foot become numb or "go to sleep" as we say, and the foot is seen to jerk up and down with a definite rhythm. This means that the nerves are compressed and the artery is constricted. If the jerking of the foot be watched one will see that it beats in time with the pulse, which means that besides the hydrostatic pressure in the blood vessels the heart is overcoming to a certain degree the weight of the legs and the walls of the compressed artery are strained. The vein, too, is constricted and our feet feel swollen, and the superficial veins on the back of the leg often stand out in black lines.

That these symptoms are unfavorable is beyond a doubt. A compressed nerve, if long subjected to such conditions, is bound to rebel. Sciatic, ascending paralysis, chronic numbness and cramps have often been traced directly to the pressure caused by the crossing of the legs. Many men "go lame" in one leg, or "have a bad knee," and it is found that they habitually cross their legs in a definite way. Constrict an artery or a vein and the penalty is sure and often swift. Thrombosis, or a blood clot in the vessel; aneurism, or a morbid dilatation of the vessel; improper venous return and varicose veins, to say nothing of swollen feet and poorly nourished muscles, are some of the graver ills.

Fortunately not all or necessarily any of these afflictions are inevitable, entailed by crossing one's legs. However, if the danger signal of numbness, swelling and jerking of the foot appear, we may rest assured that if long kept up we may and probably will suffer from one or more of these troubles.—Troy Times.

ONLY A PRETEXT FOR A QUARREL

(Original.)
Georgia Trent was the most unattractive child in the school. Pale, freckled, weazened, nothing but skin and bone, her clothes hung upon her as if she had been a skeleton doll. Her homeliness always showed most in contrast when she stood beside her cousin, Clara Doolittle, a plump, rosy girl, with robin egg eyes and yellow hair. Clara was the belle of the school. All the boys who were girls' boys were in love with her. "I was a boys' boy myself, but this did not prevent my having a secret admiration for her." As for Georgia, I thought no more of her than of a starved kitten.

It so happened, however, that Georgia became connected with an episode in my school life. Jim Atherton was the bully of the school, while I was vice bully. Jim could thrash me, and I could thrash all the other boys. I was not satisfied to be second best, and one vacation I pounded sand bags, pulled weights and ran long distances in order to be able to tackle Jim next term.

When we got back to school in September, I looked for a pretext for a fight. Jim was an overbearing fellow, with no mind for the rights of others, and was not long in giving me an opportunity. One recess I went out on to the playground, to see him holding up Georgia Trent, who was screaming vociferously, by the ears, while Clara Doolittle stood by laughing. Here was my chance—not that I sympathized especially with Georgia, for children are not sympathetic as a rule. If there was any other motive than the one I have mentioned, it was to try my strength and skill before Clara. I demanded the release of Georgia, whereupon followed the expected scurrilousness. Despite my preparation, I got the worst of it, and as I limped off the field I had the mortification to see Clara make a face at me. Her scorn only intensified whatever of feeling I had had for her.

Ten years passed. I had been separated from these two girls, forgetting Georgia entirely, but treasuring a schoolboy longing for her cousin. Before entering upon the practice of my profession I determined to take a summer vacation and spend it at my old home. I learned that the cousins had been left alone in the world and were living together. Both were in mourning and saw little or no company. I went to the house and sent up a card, or, rather, two cards, for I had grown conventional, and, though I did not care to see Georgia, I was not so unfeeling as to leave her out entirely. I was obliged to wait some time, which only added to my expectancy, when a woman, graceful, refined, dignified, walked into the room and came forward with extended hand.

"Is it possible," she said, "that you are George Putnam? I would never have known you."

"I would have known you if I had met you among a thousand and had no inkling as to whom you were."
"Haven't I improved?" she asked, with the suspicion of a pout.
"There was no room for improvement. I see the same rosy cheek and bright eye that I used to admire when we were schoolfellows. Of course you have developed from a child to a woman, all your features gaining immensely by the change, but they are the same features."

She looked at me curiously, as if she doubted my sincerity, whereupon, half in earnest, half jestingly, I told her that I had been her ardent admirer while at school and had treasured her image in my heart ever since. After I left her it occurred to me that I had forgotten to ask after her cousin. I was much mortified, but the omission was not to be corrected.

"The next time I called my first words were, 'And where is your cousin Georgia?'"

"Georgia!" she replied, opening her eyes. "Oh, Georgia doesn't see any callers. She is the same pale, freckled skin and bones she was when you acted as her champion at school."

"I her champion? How was that?"
"Don't you remember when Jimmie Atherton held her up by the ears and you fought a battle for her?"

"So I did. I had forgotten it."
"She hasn't, and," lowering her voice into a confidential tone, "she has had a weak spot in her heart for you ever since."

"Don't say that," I replied.

"Why not?"
"Because the weak spot in my heart has been and is for you."

I endeavored to press the matter, but she would not listen to me, and after several attempts to restore a cordial feeling, in none of which I succeeded, I left the house.

When I called again, I was informed that Miss Doolittle had not yet returned from abroad, but Miss Trent would come down and receive me.

Clara came abroad! And must I face her cousin, knowing her feeling for me, a feeling I cannot reciprocate? I see it all. The noble Clara has gone away to leave me free for her cousin.

I was kept waiting a long while, which added to my discomfiture. Then the girl who had twice received me, looking more radiant than ever, entered the room.

"Why, I thought you had gone abroad!"

"Clara is abroad. She has been in Germany for a year."

"And you are?"

"Georgia."

After many months I was forgiven. Why? Because I had fought for her. True, she had been only a pretext, but this she did not know, and I was not so stupid as to enlighten her.

VOLCANO ASHES CAUSE DEATH

Live Stock Is Killed and Plantations Are Ruined in Guatemala.
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 13.—News received by the Pacific mail steamer Newport confirms the report of much damage in Guatemala on the morning of October 25 as the result of a violent eruption of the volcano of Santa Maria in Quetzaltenango district, on the seaward slope of a small range of mountains separating Quetzaltenango from the port of Champerico. Details are being suppressed by the government, but it is said that many lives have been lost as a result of the fall of ashes; thousands of horses, cattle and other animals were killed, and rich coffee plantations ruined. The loss of the new crop of coffee will amount to 15,000 tons. Americans in Champerico said the towns of Palmar, San Felipe, Columbia and Coatepec had been destroyed, with probably great loss of life.

YUKON RIVER IS FROZEN SOLID

Steamer La France Caught in Ice and Must Stay All Winter.

Victoria, B. C. Nov. 13.—The steamer Amur, from Skagway, reports that the Yukon has been frozen solid and the steamer La France caught and held in the ice when en route down near Minto. She will remain there all winter and fears are expressed that she may be crushed by the ice. The first stage from White Horse reached Dawson on November 9 after six days' travel, and the first stage from Dawson was due at White Horse on November 10.

CRIPPLED WOMAN GOES TO JAIL

She Had Shot Married Man Who Deceived Her.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13.—Nina K. Danforth pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to twenty-one months in the Cambridge house of correction. She shot and killed Andrew J. Emery at South Framingham May 17. Emery had courted her and she believed he intended to marry her. When she learned that he had a wife and several children she killed him. She is deformed and her home is in Framingham.

LIGHTNING TEARS OFF TOENAIL

Indiana Schoolboy's Contact With the Fluid Out of the Ordinary.

Dublin, Ind., Nov. 13.—A bolt of lightning struck the schoolhouse at New Brunswick, but did little damage, except tearing the nail off the big toe of Jesse Parker, a schoolboy. Parker was passing between the stove and the wall when the lightning struck the chimney and ran to the floor, encountering his toe in the transit. Parker's shoe was badly torn and the skin on his foot burned, but he sustained no other injury.

Eat and Run.

There isn't a man who would be seen running through the street munching a piece of pie. Why not? Because it would mean dyspepsia and stomach trouble? Not at all; but because it wouldn't look well. As a matter of fact many a business man snatches a lunch in such a hurry that he might as well take it on the run. That is one reason for the prevailing "stomach trouble" among men of business.

There is a certain remedy for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The worst cases of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach have been cured by this medicine. It cures where all other means have failed to cure.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carver, Esq., of Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, and how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. Am now glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They stimulate the sluggish liver, and cleanse the system of impurities. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.

ANTI-PASS AMENDMENT

One of the three amendments voted for at the last election, was known as the anti-pass amendment. The law has been in force for the last four years, but to make it permanent public endorsement was required in the way of constitutional amendment.

The indifference on the part of the people and the fact that in many counties a majority is shown against the measure, seems to be a matter of surprise to the administration organs, and they are at a loss to account for that fact that the great reform movement was not more popular.

There is a little history connected with this anti-pass farce, that should not be overlooked, and which accounts for much of the indifference. A. R. Hall, the erratic ex-assemblyman from Dunn county was the father of this reform measure. Mr. Hall possessed a grievance and a hobby. His grievance was against railroad companies, and his hobby was the corruption of the pass system.

He was a member of the committee on resolutions in the republican convention of 1898 when Scofield was nominated for the second term.

Mr. Hall was persistent in his demands but the committee did not favor his scheme, and the platform presented, ignored the hobby for which Mr. Hall had contended so vigorously. But the gentleman from Dunn, with the persistence for which he is noted, succeeded in forcing the issue on the floor of the convention, and the majority lacked the moral courage to vote him out of order. The result was that it was tacked onto the platform as the first evidence of weakness on the part of conservative republicanism in the state.

The people have recently been given an opportunity to express their opinion on this great reform measure, with results that are surprising to reformers. The vote indicates that they have confidence in the integrity of public servants, and no particular complaint to register against corporations.

JOHN STRANGE AND HIS VAGARIES.

Mr. John Strange has been making some wild statements in regard to the senatorship, declaring that Senator Spooner would not be nominated and that pre-convention pledges would not be fulfilled. People who do not know Mr. Strange should not take him seriously, for John is strange in several respects besides his name. Last summer he was a candidate for the congressional nomination against Mr. Davidson and he astonished the public by his declaration one day that he was sure of the nomination and the next day that he could not afford to take it because he was going into a deal with John W. Gates by which he would clear $100,000. If Mr. Strange really believes that the legislators pledged to vote for Spooner will not do so, he is the only one who thinks so, and his views are not shared by the people of this county. Mr. Strange may speak for himself but he certainly does not represent any one else. The people of Winnebago county want Mr. Spooner for senator for the next six years and their representatives in the next legislature will vote for him.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Mr. Strange is the gentleman who financed the $55.55 railway train thereby gaining a wide reputation as an expert on transportation. He is busily engaged just now in managing a little boom for A. R. Hall of Dunn county, as successor to John C. Spooner in the senate.

People who are not acquainted with Mr. Strange, will be glad to know from his home paper that he is not to be taken seriously, and yet there is a suspicion that possibly he may know more about the situation than the "Northwestern" credits to him.

While it is true that Winnebago, as a state, is practically unanimous for Spooner's return, it is also true that his fate is in the hands of a few men who are not friendly to him. The will of the people is not always supreme.

A SPASM OF VIRTUE

A spasm of virtue seems to have attacked the common council at its last meeting and public utilities of various kinds were parceled out to committees of one, for investigation and reform.

The Milwaukee road, Electric Light company, and Street Railway company, will now come to time or go out of business. In the meantime, the stone quarry and street paving contracts, glide along with monotonous regularity, while the city hall pays tribute to anything that comes along in the way of extras.

There's nothing like a division of labor, and while the alderman from the third perambulates the city nights to keep tab on the lights that refuse to burn, and his colleague from the second, makes life a burden to the transportation company, the committee on electrolysis will discover that unlike gas it has no odor, except the bad odor of a defective franchise.

Prof. Garner is just back from Africa with a number of phonographic rolls of what he calls monkey talk. Doubtless he will go to Newport with them next summer to compare the language.

THE COAL SITUATION

The present production of anthracite coal is 3,000,000 tons per month, a shortage of 1,600,000 tons when the mines are running in normal condition.

The mining companies are flooded with large orders from all parts of the country, and the eastern market would take the entire output for the next three months, if permitted to do so. An effort is made on the part of the companies to distribute the supply equitably, and while stocks will be light throughout the winter it is safe to say that by the first of January, coal will be found in every market.

While prices at the mines have not materially advanced, the cost of all rail transportation adds materially to the cost in local markets, and an average advance of two dollars per ton at least, will prevail.

The nominal price of September coal in Chicago was $6.00 per ton. It is worth $8.00 today and doubtless will remain at that figure during the winter. This means from $10 to $12 in localities supplied by the Chicago market.

The people of the country will contribute to the strike anywhere from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 in advanced prices, to say nothing about the suffering and inconvenience entailed.

Luxuries always come high, but instances are rare, where necessities cannot be procured at reasonable rates.

It is fortunate for the country that the weather is tempered to meet the wants of the occasion, and if an open winter follows the blessing will be thoroughly appreciated.

VALUE OF IMPORTS

No feature of the foreign commerce of the United States is more interesting or more suggestive than the figures which show the growth in importations of manufacturers' materials. The September report of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics shows that the importations of manufacturers' articles in the nine months ending with September 1902 were not only larger than in the corresponding period of any preceding year, but formed a larger percentage of the total imports than on any preceding occasion. The total importation of manufacturers' articles ending with September 1902 amounted to $325,771,211, and formed 45.39 per cent of the total imports. A comparison of these figures with those for the corresponding period of 1890 shows an increase of 60 per cent in the importations of manufacturers' materials during that time, the total importation of manufacturers' materials in the nine months of 1890 having been $206,724,980. The share which manufacturers' materials formed of the total imports in 1890 was only 33.03 per cent, as against 45.39 per cent in the corresponding months of 1902.

Ex-President Cleveland spoke in New Jersey, the other day, in the interests of a reform democratic candidate for congress. The address had no perceptible influence, unless it contributed to the majority of the republican candidate. Mr. Cleveland is very wise, but he is so closely identified with recent history, that his judgment is questioned on important issues. The country has no time to waste in discussing free trade fallacies.

It is reported that Cuba is making ready to repudiate the Platt amendment to their constitution and then maybe there will be trouble and may be there will not. Just wait and see. Uncle Sam is full grown now and he can whip his bad boys as easily as any John Bull thought of doing.

The switchmen decided that they would not strike and the railways gave them a partial increase of wages as they demanded. Now they can wait a while and then make another demand and it will even things up.

Is it not funny how ready democratic papers are to give good sound advice to the republican party as to how it should be run when they cannot run their own party so as to win?

Grover came out of his shell and the seclusion of the woods of Princeton long enough to see the old lady of the democratic party go back for another two years' sleep.

Governor La Follette will venture into the woods of Northern Wisconsin after deer. It is said to be dangerous but after his experience during the last campaign he has no fear.

The Canadian government would like to have the Doughbobs fight or do something that they could fix them on. They only pray and sing.

Is there a paper in the state that did not crack some pun on Rose's name during the last campaign? If so, stand up and say so.

It seems to bother some people that the president has not made public just what he will say to congress in his next message.

President Castro and his grand entry into Caracas seem to have much encouraged the people of Venezuela that they have had a war.

PRESS COMMENT.

Washington Times: There's no use talking, the people at the polls are the "real stuff" in our great country.

Chippewa Independent: The rich always lead the poor by the nose. A dollar to a man that cannot buy his supper bribes him for life.

Chicago Record-Herald: Henry Waterson's private opinion is that the democrats would have won easily if Cleveland had kept quiet.

Neenah Times: Neenah and Menasha receive and ship more railway freight than the city of Oshkosh, a city three times their combined population.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: Whatever differences of opinion Milwaukeeans may express regarding an open town, they are unanimously in favor of an open winter.

Kansas City Star: Candidly, we do not believe the administration at Washington had anything to do with this wailing of General Miles, valise at Honolulu.

Atlanta (Ga.) Journal: General Funston's baby has been named Arthur McArthur Funston. If there is anything in a name he ought to talk at six months.

Adelaide King in Milwaukee Sentinel: To the woman who works on a salary it is the eighth wonder of the world how a man ever gets enough ahead to buy a home.

Waupaca Post: After all, it was no surprise. The republicans had the issues, the candidates, and the people. It makes a combination which is well nigh impossible to beat.

Milwaukee News: However, there is one condition to the re-election of Senator Spooner that will have to be observed. The legislature will not be able to make it for twenty years.

Madison Democrat: Mr. Rose made some 350 speeches and yet was only beaten by 50,000 or 60,000. Under the circumstances it must be concluded that our people are very lenient.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: It is just as clear that the republicans of Wisconsin want Mr. Spooner to remain in the senate as it is that they want R. M. La Follette to succeed himself as governor.

Milwaukee Journal: Among indications of unexampled prosperity is the fact that the prices of necessities of life are so high that the frugal housewife needs a balloon to reach them when she goes to market.

New York World: It is not well to make game of the game laws. A woman in New Brunswick, being attacked by a moose in the woods, shot it to save her own life and was fined $100 for shooting without a license. The incident seems to bristle with morals.

New York Mail and Express: Dr. Harper thinks that the church is "alienating the rich." If this is true, it is a less calamity than alienating the poor would be. Give it a strong hold on the humble and religion would be abundantly able to care for itself.

Philadelphia Ledger: At the Atchison, Kan., carnival one of the attractions was an Indian girl orchestra from one of the government schools in Arizona. Some of the girls were full-blooded and some were half breeds. Two of them got to quarrelling over some small matter.

and one hotly said: "I am just as good as the rest of you, if I am half white."

Chicago Record-Herald: Tom Johnson claims the result in Ohio was really a victory for him. One good thing about an election is that it can be explained in almost any way.

Chicago Chronicle: Our prohibition friends have scored a victory by electing Mr. Stewart to the legislature from Hyde Park, but their triumph is marred by the fact that they are deluged by their platform from whooping things up with the boys in celebration thereof.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The Count de Dion, president of the Paris Automobile club, was successful in the latest French duel, but his antagonist may yet gain satisfaction by meeting him with a devil wagon instead of a sword.

Racine Journal: Senator Spooner, by explicit instructions of the Wisconsin people, was endorsed to succeed himself and legislative candidates now all elected, instructed to vote for him without conditions. This command means precisely what it says, "without condition."

Chicago Chronicle: Bears are very numerous and impudent in the Wisconsin woods, a fact which is said to portend a mild winter. Bears are numerous and impudent in Wall Street likewise, but the circumstances rather portend a cold winter—for the unsophisticated outsider who is long of stocks.

Buffalo Express: It is gratifying news to Americans that terms of settlement are being considered by the two parties to the Colombian war. The best terms they could reach would be to leave the whole quarrel to the arbitration of a commission designated by the president of the United States.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Chairman Warden of the democratic state central committee, refused to be comforted in his hour of sorrow. In his valedictory address he concedes that Wisconsin is a republican state and there is little hope for democracy anywhere. And yet it is less than a week since he was claiming the election of Rose by 20,000.

Marion Advertiser: They say La Follette is elected. Well, our conscience is clear on one point. We never said he wouldn't be. He is too "cute to be scooped," and can give such men as Quarles, Spooner, Long Jones and Fletcher cards and spades any day. Here the boy who can close in on a stalwart windpipe with grace, but the time gentlemen, has gone by for hot-air pressure.

La Crosse Chronicle: Here is something delightfully inconsistent. The stalwart bunch of bolters now insist that the legislature is unconstitutional for John C. Spooner. In the same breath they declare that it is now up to Governor La Follette to have the legislature do what he wants done. If the legislature is really unconstitutionally John Spooner's, what can the governor do with it?

Appleton Post: The result of the election Tuesday indicates that the women of Wisconsin did not avail of their privilege to any considerable extent to vote for state and county superintendents and on the constitutional amendment respecting the first named office. Not even all those who took the trouble to register their names voted. One thing seems certain, viz: that the great majority of women would not avail of the elective franchise in its entirety even if it were extended to their sex. And, indeed, it is altogether probable that women are at their best as "the power behind the throne."

Denver Women Are Ambitious. The Jane Jefferson (women's) Democratic Club of Denver has taken out a thirty-years' charter. It is hoped by the originators that the club, which was named in honor of the mother of Thomas Jefferson, will ultimately become a national organization of Democratic women.

THE BEST LIGHTED STORES

In any city in any state in these United States are the most prosperous stores. Not because they have more money to spend, but on the contrary, the more prosperous the store may be the point of the pencil used by the "boss." Most lighted because they recognize and have recognized since the days of the starting of the Electric Light plant that nothing attracts customers as does a well lighted store, nothing commands cash in window decoration, the safe, etc., can produce a more real hard cash showing than an are lamp in front of store or one in front of oculi window.

Customers want to be attracted to the store, they want to see to get in, they want to see the inside when they get in, not just a spot here and there, but the whole store; they want to see the goods they purchase, they want to see the goods upon the shelves, and the merchant that does not let them see is the one that does not make the sale.

Don't make your customers regret up their eyes to see you across the counter.

Cut down the "pure street glare," cut down some newspaper space is necessary, but "let your light shine."

Lots of people forget the price, forget difference of a nickel or a dime if they get the service—service means light.

Make that store a bright, attractive one, your customers breathe better, feel freer and spend freer.

Give them the light to see: seeing more often opens the purse strings than talk, and the best of it—but have good light.

Are Lamps give the clear steady light required.

CONCERT OPENED LECTURE COURSE

A LARGE AUDIENCE HEARD MILWAUKEE LYRIC GLEE CLUB.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM GIVEN

Solos and Choruses Give Music Lovers an Evening of Pleasure—Miss Haley Next.

With the appearance of so notable a musical organization as the Milwaukee Lyric Glee Club, the People's Lecture Course opened its seventeenth season at the Congregational church last evening. The church was well filled with a large audience of representative people, although the attendance did not equal that of past years. There were thirty voices in the chorus, which presented last evening's concert, the club being under the able direction of Daniel Protheroe. Unfortunately, trouble with the church chimney early in the evening resulted, in filling the church with smoke and the atmosphere did not clear up until the program was nearly over. The smoke placed the singers at a disadvantage although it did not seem to materially affect their singing.

Good Program Given
From the opening number, "Estudiantina," by Lascabine, until the final chorus, "Belouin Love Song," which proved a splendid finale to the program, every number was thoroughly enjoyable. The chorus is made up of excellent solo voices, the tenors being especially worthy of praise. The basses were also powerful and rich in quality and the chorus numbers were all enjoyed.

Chorus Numbers
One of the best of the numbers given by the entire club was the vocal combat, arranged by Dudley Buck, in which the tenors sang, "Then You'll Remember Me" by Balfe and the basses gave "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" by Knight. Other numbers, sung by the club were "Lullaby" by Nevin, "Dixie Kid" by Geisel, "Hymn of Praise" by Mohr, "Hush" by Neldinger, "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son," by Smith, "Suwanee River," sung as an encore to the vocal combat, and "Old Black Joe," also an encore.

The Comedian Soloist
Of the soloists, O. F. Bird, was the popular favorite, his comedy work making as much of a hit with the audience as his singing. With an individual style that was irresistibly funny, he sang, "The Merry Miller" from "Rob Roy," by DeKoven, giving "Ehenezer" as an encore.

Other Solo Numbers
The barytone solos by Carl Haase were the delights of the evening. He sang exquisitely giving "Mary Dear" as an encore to "Good Night, Little Girl, Good Night," by Macy. Daniel Protheroe's powerful barytone voice was heard in "Lond Me Your Aid" from "Queen of Sheba" by Gounod, C. A. Pettibone sang "Hans Rap" from "The Knickerbockers" by DeKoven and Dr. P. T. Thompson sang "Isabel" by Keene.

A Talented Pianist
Charles M. Lurvey played the piano accompaniments faultlessly and his brilliant interpretation of "The Erl King," which he played as the piano solo number of the program, was delightfully artistic. An encore was insistently demanded but Mr. Lurvey declined to respond.

Lecture Comes Next
The next attraction on the course will be the lecture by Miss Margaret Haley on Monday evening, December 15.

BIG GAME ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Golden Eagles Will be Rejuvenated For the Special Occasion.

On Thanksgiving day the old "Golden Eagles" may be resurrected to play a match game of football on the gridiron at Athletic park. The matter is still being held in abeyance until it is learned positively whether or not the park will be used on that day by the high school team.

In Good Condition
All the fall a number of the old time players have been practicing with one and another of the hundred and one football teams which have been in existence. A large number of minor matches have been played on holidays and on Sunday mornings. The result is that a large number of good players are in fair condition to go into a hard game with no further practice.

After Teams
Several teams have been corresponded with regarding a game of football to be played on Thanksgiving day. Among them are the Milton College eleven and a team from Beloit. There is little doubt entertained by the men who are at the head of the project of the possibility of securing a team to compete against in case that date should leave the field unused.

CITY NEWS NOTES

Mistaken Report: The report that Mr. Frank E. Sadler of 56 Milton avenue has gone insane and has been carried away to the asylum is entirely untrue and causes his wife chagrin and annoyance. It is a case of another man by the same name. Mr. Frank E. Sadler lives at 50 Milton avenue, with his wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher. They were married last fall and it is a little too early in the game for Mr. S. to go insane.

Bowl Tonight: On Hockett's alleys this evening the Badgers and All Stars in the city league will play a tournament game, completing the first round. This will be the only game to be played this week, as it will bring the teams out even, with an equal number of games apiece. Next Tuesday the second round will begin with a game between the Doctors (King Pins) and the Belmonts.

COUNTY BOARD ENDS
Completes Schedule For Taxes and Then Adjourns.

The board of supervisors completed its business at 2:30 this afternoon and adjourned until January 19 at 2 p. m.

Rock county will raise $138,213.91 this year in taxes, of which $83,213.91 is the total state tax and special charges. The educational fund is $78,955.96, the amount raised for the state hospitals, industrial school for boys and Home for Feeble Minded is $3,668.22, and the special charge to school districts is $49,749.73. The county taxes for general purposes are $60,000 or about $10,000 more than last year. Ten thousand of this goes to pay the county asylum bonds, Nos. 120 to 140, and $2,750 goes to pay interest.

The one-tenth mill tax amounts to $4,000 and the superintendent of schools get $2,000. The balance of the $55,000 or about $37,000, is the county school tax.

The report of the Rock county soldiers' and sailors monument committee showed a balance of $449.15 on hand.

The board after drawing their per diem and mileage adjourned.

CIRCUIT COURT CALENDAR READY

MANY IMPORTANT CASES WILL COME UP FOR TRIAL.

TWENTY-SIX DEMAND JURIES

November Term of Court Will Open Monday Morning—No Criminal Cases.

Clerk of the Court Goldin has the calendar for the November term of the circuit court, which convenes on Monday morning, ready for the attorneys.

Twenty-six issues of fact for the jury are listed; there are also twenty-four issues of fact for the court and six issues of law for the court.

There are no criminal cases on the calendar for this term they all having been disposed of at the last term.

Jury Cases
Among the jury cases for damages are Benjamin P. Hess vs. George W. Hall for injuries sustained by him when Hall's tiger escaped from confinement last spring. Fred O'Donnell vs. the Northwestern railway for the loss of his foot while in the employ of the company. Daniel J. Luby vs. Chester C. Bennett, William Monahan vs. the Northwestern railway, J. J. Edwards, W. H. H. Macdon and E. D. Macdon also have cases against the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville railway company for injuries to their property in this city. Fred Heussauer against M. Valentine for injuries received by falling into a catch basin at Mr. Valentine's home, while carrying coal into the house is also on the calendar for a jury trial.

TWILIGHT CLUB IS TO VISIT MADISON

Will Attend the Next Meeting of the Six O'clock Club of the Capital City.

Members of the Twilight club will visit the Six O'clock club of Madison at their next regular meeting, Monday evening, December 1, and at some future date the visit will be returned.

This was decided at the meeting of the Twilight club on Tuesday evening when the invitation of the Madison club, presented by Judge C. L. Fifield, was accepted. The following committee was appointed to make the arrangements: C. L. Fifield, A. E. Matheson, Stanley B. Smith, O. F. Nowlan and F. F. Lewis.

Appetizing Supper
Tuesday evening's meeting was the second one of this season and the first one to be held at the Y. M. C. A. building. Over one hundred members were present and the gentlemen were pleased with the entertainment accorded them. The bohemian repast was served under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. the ladies having prepared an elegant New England dinner. They were assisted in the faultless service by a number of young ladies. The tables were prettily spread, autumn foliage and flowers being used in their decoration.

Good Program
The meeting which followed the supper was one of unusual interest, the subject being Life Insurance. W. F. McCaughey was the leader. The formal program included four excellent addresses, "What It Is and What It Does" by H. F. Norris, of Milwaukee, superintendent of agencies of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, "Some Advantages of Life Insurance," by A. E. Melenz, of Milwaukee, state manager of the Etna company; "Why I Insured" by W. F. Palmer; and "Fraternal Insurance" by E. H. Ryan and J. J. Cunningham.

The discussions of the evening were spirited and interesting and some difficult questions were asked of the principal speakers. The question box proved a very interesting feature.

Next Meeting
W. A. Jackson was chosen as the leader of the December meeting at which time the topic will be: "Does Janesville Need a Municipal League?"

IS YET NO TRACE OF MISSING RIG

Horse and Buggy Owned by Curlier Seems to Have Been Swallowed Up in Mystery.

No trace has been found of E. L. Curlier's horse and buggy, stolen from in front of the Franklin hotel on Wednesday night. The sheriff in all of the adjoining counties and the police in the cities have been notified of the theft and cards bearing a description of the missing outfit have been sent in all directions.

The curious thing of the theft is that Curlier was sitting in the Franklin house office the most of the evening and was probably there at the time that the outfit was stolen. The boldness of the theft more than anything else insured its success.

Excellent Watch Display
This morning the jewelry firm of F. C. Cook & Co. placed on display in their West Milwaukee street store a display of ladies' and gents' watches that has attracted no end of close attention. GONE TO HIS FINAL REWARD

John Donnelly
The last services over the remains of John Donnelly were held from St. Patrick's church this morning at 9:30. Dean McGinnity officiated. A large number of friends of the deceased were present to bear witness by their attendance of the esteem in which Mr. Donnelly was held.

The floral offerings were of especial beauty, one of them, the gift of the son, James Donnelly of Chicago, being especially so. It represented a chair cushioned in flowers, fully five feet in height. On the back was a clock with the hands pointing to ten o'clock, the hour at which the deceased passed away. The interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were Thomas Cullen, Thomas Madden, Thomas Kilby, Charles Gieky, Peter Lee and Michael Murphy.

Mrs. Thomas Earle
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Thomas Earle will be held from the home in the town of Porter tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Wallace Short, pastor of the Congregational church of Evansville will officiate and the interment will be in the town of Porter cemetery, three miles from Evansville.

SIMPLY FILLING TO HELP POWER

ELECTRIC COMPANY ONLY DOES NECESSARY WORK ON RACE.

REPORT OF FEAR UNFOUNDED

Other Factory Owners Excited, But Are Satisfied with Explanation That Is Offered.

Because some employees of the Electric light company had begun to fill in dirt along the banks of the mill race near Fourth avenue a consultation was called of some of the power owners along the race with the idea of stopping the work. It was soon discovered that the work which was about to be done was not intended to infringe on the rights of the manufacturers along the race and so the work went on as before.

A Bad Bend
At the bend near Fourth avenue the race is wider than need be, and there is a resultant leakage of power. The explanation of the land syndicate that started the filling in work on the bank is that it was only to do away with this loss of power, that the work was being done. The objection to the work was made by the Jeffris company, but the matter was satisfactorily settled without difficulty.

Can Not Fill It
As the matter now stands it would be impossible for the syndicate company to enter upon their project of filling in the race at the present time, although that will probably follow at as early a date as arrangements can be made with the manufacturers who still own interests in the water power, outside of the syndicate. Up to the present time no successful attempts have been made to purchase the controlling interests held by the two companies which are still holding power rights and are not connected with the big land company.

OPENING ON SATURDAY
Simpson's New Store Will Then Be Ready For Business.

Next Saturday morning the Simpson dry goods store, in the Hayes block, will be open for business. During the past two weeks decorators have been busily engaged in remodeling the spacious store throughout. The line of goods to be carried are only those to be found in first class dry goods houses, special attention having been paid to the cloak, skirt and waist departments. Simpson's new store lacks for nothing and the new firm will start out with the best of wishes from friends in all portions of Rock county.

MANY ATTENDED OPENING

The Big Store Proved A Most Attractive Place This Week

Judging from the large number of people who attended the fall opening this week at the dry goods store of J. M. Eastwick & Sons, it is safe to state that the Big Store proved a most attractive place. Special efforts were put forth on all sides to make this opening a success and no expense was spared by this enterprising firm.

An orchestra of four pieces occupied a platform in the front part of the store and throughout the afternoon and evening rendered choice selections. Special decorative work on the part of Mr. Gates showed itself to good advantage and to his good taste and untiring efforts is due in a large measure the success of the Big Store's successful opening.

SUIT STARTED
Emptying of Sewers into Race Causes Trouble.

People owning property along the raceway are determined that the city shall not run the sewerage from the sewer now being built down Wall street into the race. The sewer in question is nearly completed and runs from the St. Paul station on High street to the race.

Yesterday afternoon proceedings were begun by the Hoadgett Milling Co., and an injunction was issued restraining the contractor from proceeding further with the work.

The plaintiffs set forth that they are the owners and operators of a mill situated on the raceway and are entitled to a certain number of inches of water from the race. The city has no legal or personal right in the raceway and has no right to empty sewerage into it to the personal injury of the plaintiffs.

The St. Paul company paid $560 to the city to aid in the construction of this sewer and have a contract with the city in regard to it.

It is claimed by some members of the council that the owners of buildings along the race are in a poor position to make a fight against the city. Many of them have buildings that extend into river street anywhere from twelve to eighteen feet and an action might be started by the city for the vacation of River street.

The matter will come up for a hearing before Judge Davidson in a few days and the injunction question settled.

DELEGATES ASK DEEP WATERWAY WILL APPEAL TO CONGRESS

All Hands Will Unite to Secure Improvements in the Father of Waters and to Restore Its Former Prestige to the River.

Quincy, Ill., Nov. 13.—The largest Mississippi river convention held in twenty years was opened here for the purpose of urging congress to authorize such improvements of the upper Mississippi as will restore that part of the great stream to its former supremacy as the commercial highway of the Mississippi valley. All important cities and towns along the river from Minneapolis and St. Paul to St. Louis were represented by 200 men prominent in the business life of those communities. Many delegations were headed by mayors. Three states were represented by Congressmen George W. Pringle and J. Ross Miley of Illinois, Thomas Hodge of the First Iowa district and James T. Lloyd of the First district of Missouri.

Permanent Organization.

Temporary and permanent organizations were perfected. M. M. Walker of Dubuque was temporary chairman and Charles R. Hennerson of Quincy temporary secretary. A committee composed of one member from each of the twenty-one cities along the river was appointed to draft a concentrated scheme of river improvement.

At the afternoon session addresses were made by Lyman E. Cooley of Chicago and Congressmen Pringle, Lloyd and Hodge. The consensus of legislative opinion was that if the cities and states along the river could unite on a direct and comprehensive plan for river improvement free from local jealousies or schemes proper appropriations from congress could be secured.

Seek to Rejuvenate River.

The convention was characterized by serious and earnest work. It marked the first attempt of the upper river sections toward a united effort to reclaim the lost prestige of the Mississippi above St. Louis. For years the delegates had seen the commerce on their portion of the river gradually decrease and they were determined to leave nothing undone to revive the good old days when the boats swarmed on the surface of the big river and when every town between the headwaters and the mouth of the Missouri was enjoying phenomenal prosperity.

Sounds Keynote.

The keynote of the convention was sounded by L. B. Boswell of Quincy, who, as the representative of a committee of the Quincy, freight bureau and the chamber of commerce, issued the call for the convention.

"One purpose for which we are met," said Mr. Boswell, "is to declare that the upper Mississippi shall neither be slandered by J. J. Hill nor neglected by the government."

C. H. Williamson of the local chamber of commerce evoked applause in his address of welcome by declaring that "this convention should have been held twenty-five years ago." He attributed "government neglect of the upper Mississippi to the fact that the cities and towns between the headwaters and the mouth of the Missouri had never before been organized."

"Deep Water," the Cry.

The necessity for organization and united action was emphasized by Congressmen Pringle, Hedges and Lloyd, in which event they said their "is would be strengthened to offer the needed aid from congress."

"Organization" and "deep water" were the watchwords of the convention, and when Lyman E. Cooley, who had been especially invited to be a delegate, told the convention that it was possible to secure from nine to twelve feet of water in the upper division of the stream by pursuing the French policy of canalization he was loudly applauded. Mr. Cooley spoke of water transportation and gave the convention much statistical information concerning the development of water commerce in the United States and Europe.

Will Make United Effort.

The preliminary deliberations of the convention developed a spirit among the delegates to abandon any preconcerted plans for local improvements at various points and to unite in one supreme effort to obtain improvement on a scale that would be general. The day's proceedings were devoted chiefly to organization and the preparation of resolutions. The following permanent officers were elected: President, Captain Lon Bryson, of Davenport, Ia.; vice presidents: for Minnesota, Mayor John Espy, of St. Paul; for Wisconsin, John C. Burns, La Crosse; for Missouri, Isaac Mason, St. Louis; for Illinois, C. H. Williamson, Quincy; for Iowa, Thomas W. Wilkinson, Burlington; secretary, L. B. Boswell, of Quincy.

Davenport, Ia., was selected as the place for holding the next annual convention, the time to be fixed by the executive committee.

The Tussock Moth.

The white-marked tussock moth is a native of North America. It ranges the territory east of the Rocky mountains and attacks almost every variety of shade, fruit and ornamental trees, with the exception of the conifers.

CATCH GARDNER BANK ROBBERS ENGAGE IN A LIVELY FIGHT

Suspects Give Battle to the Detectives, but Are Overcome by the Law's Representatives and Hurried to Jail at Morris, Ill.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Five men have been arrested charged with being responsible for the sensational raid on the Exchange Bank at Gardner, Ill., three weeks ago. The suspects were captured after a lively struggle in West Madison street and all during the day they were whirled from one police station to another in patrol wagons to prevent lawyers locating them and suing for their release on writs of habeas corpus.

The Gardner bank was looted in the early morning hours, the robbers capturing the town marshal and tying him up in the school house. In blowing the safe they wrecked the bank building, but the money in the vaults was not damaged, and they left richer by $5,000 than they were when they descended upon the town.

Police Use Bloodhounds.

They were trailed to Chicago and bloodhounds traced them to where they boarded a street car in Brighton Park. There all trace of them was lost, but Lieutenant Rohan of the Central station detailed Detectives Larkin, Duggie, Duffy and Farley on the case, and instructed them to pay heed to nothing else but the running down of the bank robbers.

The officers located the suspects, of whom Samuel Ritchie, said to be well known to the police, was the leader. They were in hiding in a flat building in West Madison street, but the officers delayed raiding the house because the five men were never together.

Capture the Band.

However, at daybreak Tuesday Ritchie, accompanied by Edward Hauser, Charles Mitchell, Hugh Blake and William Edwards, arrived at the flat building in one party, and the officers surrounded them, and after a lively encounter placed them under arrest. They were taken to the Central station, but their friends became so active in their efforts to secure their release that they were spirited away. They were taken from the Englewood station to a Rock Island train and transferred to Morris, Ill., where they will be held pending their trial.

WEYLER WILL STAY IN OFFICE

Spanish Politicians Force Sagasta to Retain War Secretary.

Madrid, Nov. 13.—General Weyler will again receive the war portfolio provided Senor Sagasta succeeds in forming a cabinet. That the general is due to be included in the new ministry is due to the fact that Marshal Lopez Dominguez declined to support Senor Sagasta. The reconstruction of the cabinet is progressing rapidly. The duke of Tetuan, as well as Marshal Lopez Dominguez, declined to support Sagasta in the formation of a liberal concentration cabinet. Senor Sagasta was received in audience by King Alfonso and subsequently said he hoped to be able to form a cabinet with the assistance of Senor Romero Robledo.

CHOLERA APPEARS AT MANILA

Seven Men of Fifth Infantry Die From Its Effects.

Manila, Nov. 13.—Cholera has invaded the ranks of a detachment of the Fifth Infantry, causing the death of seven men. Several other soldiers are seriously ill. The detachment has been placed on guard along the Marquina river, whence Manila receives its water supply, as it was deemed necessary to protect the stream from possible pollution. The cholera developed while the men were on this duty near Manila. It was believed that cholera had entirely disappeared from Manila and its reappearance has caused feelings of apprehension.

Rebel Leader at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Nov. 13.—M. Firmin, former leader of the Haytian revolution, has arrived from Santo Domingo.

Of Gladstone, Henry Labouchere once remarked: "I do not object to Mr. Gladstone's occasionally having an ace up his sleeve. But I do wish he would not always say that Providence put it there."

AMERICANS WHIP COLOMBIAN REBS CAPT. MARMADUKE COMMANDS

One Shot From Attacking Fleet Wipes Out Party of Ten Insurgents—One Vessel Is Captured and the Other Is Set on Fire.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 13.—One American was killed and two wounded in a naval battle between the government fleet and two insurgent schooners. The gunnery of the Americans was shown to good effect and one of the insurgent vessels was captured and the other destroyed, together with her cargo. The loss of the rebels was heavy.

The Colombian fleet had captured a vessel having on board correspondence showing the whereabouts of two revolutionary schooners loaded with provisions. The government warships headed for the place, and, on arriving there, the Bogota (formerly the Jesse Hanning), manned by an American crew commanded by Captain Marmaduke, lowered two boats with armed men, but as the schooners were aground they waited until high tide to attack them.

Wipe Out Rebels.

In the meantime the revolutionists were discovered in ambush close to the beach, and when the Bogota's boats pulled ahead the second time the rebels opened fire on them, killing the ship's armorer, Richard Kane of Washington, and wounding George Walker, who was shot through the legs. A seaman named Clark and Lieutenant Vasquez were also wounded, but not seriously.

The American gunners on the Bogota and the Chucuito then opened fire, and every insurgent in sight was killed. The firing was under the direction of Lieutenant Arthur H. Dutton, executive officer of the Bogota. The effect was awful, the insurgents being literally mowed down. One shot fired at a group of ten rebels, who were most actively engaged in shooting at the boats' crews, exploded just over it, and every man was instantly killed. Gunner Cross of the Bogota thinks that from forty to fifty rebels were killed.

Schooner Is Burned.

One of the schooners, the Helvetia, loaded with rice, was captured, but the first shot at the second schooner set her on fire, and she was completely destroyed, together with her cargo. The body of Kane will be buried here with military honors. A man named "R. Kane," has been mentioned in press dispatches as being one of the crew of the Bogota. It was also asserted that Kane fought under Dewey at the battle of Manila. Gunner J. Cross of the Bogota hails from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He is only 17 years of age.

Wireless Telegraphy.

Rome, Nov. 13.—The Minister of Marine has been assured by the commander of the Italian cruiser Carlos Alberto, loaned to Mareconi for experiments, that wireless telegraph messages were received from Poldhu, Cornwall, even after the Alberto entered Sydney, N. S. harbor.

Withdraw Money From Banks.

Paris, Nov. 13.—There still seems to be a sort of run on the non-postal savings banks, the run being attributed to the reactionary agitators. Since the beginning of the year the withdrawals have exceeded the deposits by $2,000,000 francs.

Lord Buys Summer Resort.

Warrensburg, Mo., Nov. 13.—A deal has been closed by which Pertie Springs, a summer resort near here, became the property of an English lord, whose name is withheld. The consideration is $100,000.

Picks Up Wreck Survivors.

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 13.—The steamer Zealandia has picked up two rafts on which were seventy survivors of the ill-fated steamer Ellinghamite, which was wrecked on the Three Kings Islands.

Negro Lives 133 Years.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Nov. 13.—Elijah Bledsoe, colored, probably the oldest man in the world, died here. He claimed to be 133 years of age, and there is hardly a doubt that he was as old as stated.

Landslide Buries Miners.

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A landslide in the ore mines at Dunderland buried a number of miners. Seven have been saved and two taken out dead. The number of those still under the debris is not known.

Furnace Men Strike.

Ironton, O., Nov. 13.—Fifty-eight employees of the Lawrence Furnace company struck because four union men had been notified to vacate company property. The plant is now closed.

YIELDS CLAIM TO THE THRONE

Count of Flanders Gives Up Right to Belgian Succession.

Brussels, Nov. 13.—In an inspired note the Etienne Beige says that the count of Flanders, brother of King Leopold, has abdicated his claim to the Belgian throne in favor of his son, Prince Albert. The count of Flanders was born in 1837. Last summer the count resigned his position as lieutenant general and chief commander of cavalry in the Belgian army. Prince Albert was born in 1875. In 1900 he married Elizabeth, duchess of Bavaria.

LABOR UNIONS HERE TO STAY

Comment of Bishop Potter on Organization of Workmen.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 13.—Bishop H. C. Potter, in commenting on the decision of the mine operators to refuse to recognize the United Mine Workers of America, said: "It is a great mistake, a great mistake, and one which will become apparent sooner or later. The labor unions of this country have come to stay. I have had considerable to do with them in years past and never have experienced any trouble. I do not see why anyone else should."

STATE FOREST RESERVATION

Connecticut Purchases 1,300 Acres of Land for a State Park.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 13.—Under a new law which contemplates extensive experiments in the reforestation of barren lands, State Forester Mifflord has purchased at $4 an acre a tract of 1,300 acres in Middlesex county for a state park. The park will be used as an object lesson, and tests will be made to determine what kind of trees are best adapted to different soils.

New Illinois Banks.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—The state auditor of public accounts has issued a permit to organize the State Bank of Toulon at Toulon, Ill., with a capital of $25,000. The auditor also issued a final permit to begin business to the Citizens' State Bank of Keithsburg, Ill., with a capital of $25,000.

Kills Brother and Sister.

Carrollton, Mo., Nov. 13.—The 15-year-old daughter of Z. J. Simmons, living three miles north of Carrollton, accidentally shot her sister, 10 years old, and brother, 7 years old. The girl picked up an old gun and pulled the trigger, thinking that the gun was not loaded.

Mrs. Clemens Is Ill.

New York, Nov. 13.—Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) has been obliged to cancel all his engagements, because of the alarming illness of his wife. Mrs. Clemens before her marriage in 1869 was Miss Olivia, daughter of Jarvis Langdon of Elmire. She is 60 years old.

The Battle Of Antietam

A FORTIETH
ANNIVERSARY
WAR STORY

September 17 to 20, 1862

[Copyright, 1902, by G. L. Kilmer.]

ANTIENTAM was more sudden and unlooked for than Gettysburg. For three days McClellan had been crowding Lee back from the heart of Maryland toward the Potomac river, where he must either cross to the Virginia shore under fire or fight on its northern bank to cripple his foe and gain time for crossing at leisure. He chose to fight.

After carrying the passes through South Mountain on the 14th of September McClellan flung his battle line westward parallel with the Potomac and moved rapidly toward the river as far as Antietam creek. Having learned from a battle order lost by some of Lee's officers that Stonewall Jackson, who on the 15th captured the Federal post at Harpers Ferry on the Virginia side of the river, was expected to re-cross and join Lee again in Maryland, McClellan knew that Lee was not beating a hurried retreat. He had not come over into a northern state merely to march back without an attempt to justify the invasion.

Lee's position south of Antietam creek was weak on his left and strong on his right. On the left the Federals could cross the stream by several fords and bridges out of view of Lee's soldiers and the range of his guns, but on the right flank the banks of the creek were steep and rugged, and the only bridge across could easily be made a target for Confederate bullets and shells. McClellan had only part of his troops on the scene at nightfall of the 16th, but he began the fight that evening by attacking the left flank of Longstreet's line on the Confederate left.

On the 16th Stonewall Jackson brought up part of the troops he had used in the capture of Harpers Ferry, and with these Lee placed out the left of his line of battle so that it fell away from Antietam creek back toward the Potomac. The angle formed by this bend in the line southward was covered with woods and ledges of rocks and made what soldiers call a strong rest for that flank.

Having marched out of Washington without authority to head off Lee's invading force in Maryland, McClellan proceeded with the sure purpose of preventing his antagonist from dodging past his line on the Antietam to the interior again. Federal batteries were strung along the center to hold Lee south of the Antietam. Two army corps under Hooker attacked the angle and the short line on Lee's left early the morning of the 17th. This was the most terrific fight on record. Hooker's columns were led by batteries which moved down fields of corn to the stubble as with a knife, and soldiers in gray who had taken cover among the tall stalks fell under the terrible storm of iron.

Hooker's battleground at Antietam furnished one of those spectacles which battle description. A picture of one of Napoleon's battles is not too strong for a parallel except that there were no cavalry charges at Antietam. Bullets, bayonets, shot and shell worked the awful havoc. Little by little Lee's left was crushed in. Hooker's infantry charged a knoll and captured it. From that point of vantage his batteries would shell the next knoll down the line and rake the intervening shelters of infantry troops. Then the Confederates would charge the Federal batteries and be met by a countercharge of the Federals.

The Federals would charge over and capture a field, strewing it with their own and the enemy's dead. At the farther edge they would cling until the Confederates mustered fresh men to charge and perhaps recover it. Failing to recover the ground, the men in gray would be swept back by a rush of the boys in blue, pillaging up more dead on the ridges and in the hollows. Behind Lee's center, at the little stone village of Sharpsburg, which gives the battle its name in Confederate annals, the ground was elevated, and whoever controlled that had the best of the fray. For that control Lee fought and McClellan struggled. With his batteries planted there McClellan could rake Lee's right flank and destroy the defenders of the bluffs at the bridge. North of Antietam creek, abreast of the bridge, Burnside's Ninth corps was unengaged.

Hooker's advance was a complete and successful flank attack. He was driving the Confederate lines together and snatching upon the key position in the Confederate center at Sharpsburg. Jackson's men driven back from the short line, rallied in the center, which soon became the Confederate left. Finally this edge of the field was narrowed down to a large cornfield which stretched between the contending lines. In places the corn was still standing when the battle was at its height. At the west end of the field were a thick woods and on the east another woods. These woods were rallying points for the Confederates on the west and the Federals on the east. The cornfield was strewn with dead, and the woods had a fringe of dead along the edge toward the corn.

Finally McClellan urged on Burnside's attack at the bridge. The height beyond was carried by a gallant charge. Then the new center of the field was stormed by fresh Federal troops. At this point a sunken road, or "Bloody Lane," as it became known from the carnage there, wound like a broad trench between the Federal division of General Richardson and the Confederates of D. H. Hill. The road was the key to the center. There the Sixty-ninth New York charged at the head of the Irish brigade. The men advanced under a stinging fire to a crest overlooking the lane and found themselves alone. They couldn't safely advance with their ranks unsupported, and they wouldn't retreat, so they planted the line on the bluffs, and began to fight as only Irishmen when well wrought up can fight. The color bearer advanced several paces, waving the green flag defiantly. It was riddled with bullets, and eight men, one after another, went down trying to keep the banner of green aloft.

When the flag of the Sixty-ninth first went down, the cry was raised among the troops looking on at a distance, "The Irish retreat!" Then the flag was picked up by new hands and carried forward. "No," said other voices, "they are charging!" Muskets became foul, and ammunition gave out, but the Irishmen fought on, using the weapons of the fallen, and there, on a few square rods of earth, the banner regiment of the brigade scored the gory record of 71 killed and 125 wounded out of 317 combatants.

The troops which relieved the Irish brigade at last charged up to the sunken road. Under the galling fire of a Confederate battery which swept the hollow with grape and canister Colonel E. E. Cross formed his line of Fifth New Hampshire boys on the road, removing bodies in gray and blue to give standing room. His wounded head was bound with a handkerchief, and blood streamed down his face. Up and down the ranks he paced, telling his soldiers to put on "war paint" and sound the "warwhoop." With the powder end of torn cartridges they streaked their faces and joined in the savage cry until the weird shout resounded above the din of battle. A frenzy seized each man, and, impatient with their slow muzzle loading guns, they tore loaded ones from the hands of the dead and fired them with fearful rapidity, sending the ramrods along with the bullets for double execution.

Many of Jackson's brigades lost half their number and three brigade commanders were killed. The First Texas regiment charged into the cornfield and fought until four-fifths of its rank and file had gone down. At the close of the day McClellan had two broken divisions in reserve behind the batteries which guarded his center and one fresh division of the Sixth corps. This division, under General Slocum, was formed in line to charge the key position where Lee's batteries stood, and checked the Federal advance beyond

THE IRISH FLAG AT ANTIENTAM. The cornfield and sunken road. By the request of the veteran General Sumner, who saw at a glance over the whole field of dead, this charge was abandoned. But it was just as well. At that hour five fresh Confederate brigades under General A. P. Hill, which had been parading the captured garrison at Harpers Ferry came to the scene at double quick. McClellan lost that day at Antietam 2,600 killed and nearly 10,000 wounded. Lee's loss was about 2,700 killed and over 7,000 wounded. On the 18th the dead were buried under a truce, and that night Lee took advantage of the darkness to escape to the Virginia shore. After reconnoitering the several fords of the Potomac to prevent ambush of his pursuing columns McClellan sent the fresh battle reserves of Fitz-John Porter to the river. At Boteler's ford the Confederate guns disputed the passage, but General Griffin led an attacking party across and up the heights and captured the battery. Next day, the 20th, two Federal brigades crossed at the ford and were driven back in a spirited fight.

Thus ended the first invasion of the north by the southern troops. Immediately after the battle Lincoln visited the field, and in the fulfillment of a vow soon afterward proclaimed emancipation. GEORGE L. KILMER.

COUGHS UP BRASS TACK.

After Eleven Years a Denver Boy
Plays Havoc with a Costly Medical Diagnosis.

Cecil Hull a 15-year-old boy who is a pupil in a Denver high school, had been afflicted with bronchial trouble for 11 years. The other day he fell into a severe paroxysm of coughing lasting for three-quarters of an hour. Then he coughed up a membranous substance which was found to contain a tick he had swallowed when four years old.

It was feared that he was developing tuberculosis, but all efforts to relieve him had proved unsuccessful. Now he is improving and is free from bronchial irritation. Physicians who had worked with the boy declare it to be one of the strangest cases in their practice affirming it to be almost impossible for a tick to remain for that length of time in a person's throat.

The tick itself was a brass carpet tack about a half inch long. Cecil had swallowed it when he was four years old. Efforts were made at the time to remove it but without success. Later he began to complain of irritation, and then the chronic bronchial trouble developed and caused him suffering for years. His parents naturally are rejoiced at the outcome.

"We feared the boy's health never would be good," said Mr. Hull. "It seemed that the older he grew the more frequent and more violent became the paroxysms of coughing. The strange thing in connection with his case is the fact that none of the physicians who examined him were able to give a reason for his affliction. They could not declare his lungs affected, and yet he had the cough which is considered a sure symptom. When he started to cough in the paroxysm which brought out the tick, I began to fear the end was coming right then, it was so severe. The outcome is most fortunate."

Hunnells Set Up in Cemetery
Over Their Graves.

The most remarkable gravestone in all Maine, if, indeed, its like can be found anywhere, is in the Hunnells family lot at Windham, where a great old-fashioned fireplace serves instead of marble or granite shaft.

The Hunnells have for two and a half centuries been the foremost people in Windham, and many of the family lie buried in this cemetery. Recently Charles H. Hunnells, the present head of the family, decided to erect a monument in the cemetery lot.

He decided that the old fireplace where his great-grandparents did their cooking and toasted their toes would be more appropriate for the purpose than an ordinary monument. So he had the old fireplace taken from the farmhouse, with its hanging crane, andirons and other belongings, and set up in the graveyard in a framework of bricks taken from the old chimney-bricks that were brought from England in the early part of the seventeenth century.

Thus the fireplace stands, a conspicuous object among the white stones that surround it. The opening is filled in with a metal tablet, upon which is inscribed the record of the Hunnells family for eight generations, or from 1654 to 1901—247 years.

In the space around the family record appear pictures of fowls, cows, hogs and other live stock owned by the various generations of the Hunnells, which won prizes at fairs. Seven hens, two hogs, four cows and six oxen appear in single pictures, while others are in a group. There is, in addition, a large picture, representing a farm scene in winter.

DANDERINE

One of Chicago's great physicians says: "I cannot prescribe or recommend anything that is as good as Danderine for the hair and scalp."

BEST IN THE WORLD.

READ WHAT JESSIE BARTLETT DAVIS "THE QUEEN OF OPERA" HAS TO SAY

Chicago, June 2, 1901.

Known Danderine Co., Chicago.—I must write you this letter because I think every one who works for a result likes to know whether it has been accomplished. I want to tell you that I can state positively that Danderine is absolutely successful, and the best article of its kind on the market today. I speak from a personal fact. I was losing my hair and had tried everything advertised without success until four weeks ago, when I began using Danderine, and I am so delighted with the success that I cannot refrain from telling you so, and I want to thank you for your discovery. Sincerely, Jessie Bartlett Davis.

Miss Sarah MacComb, whose hair touches the floor when she stands erect, says: "My hair would not reach below my waist when I commenced using Danderine, and it is now over five feet in length." (Look at her beautiful hair and judge for yourself, whether or not she got the worth of her money.)

Miss May Densmore, now the longest haired lady in the world, says: "I have used your Danderine two years and my hair has grown over an inch in length every month since I commenced its use. It surely contains most remarkably invigorating qualities." (Miss Densmore writes us under recent date that Danderine made her hair grow three feet longer than it was naturally, and is still growing.)

$1,000 will be given to anyone who proves that the above photographs and testimonials are not absolutely genuine and unsolicited.

OFFICIAL GUARANTEE.

To Whom It May Concern: THE KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago, hereby agrees to refund the full purchasing price of Danderine to anyone who after giving it a fair trial, shall for any reason, not experience every result claimed for it.

THE KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago, Ill.

DANDERINE is absorbed most easily by the scalp and its properties are so invigorating and strengthening that it makes the hair grow unusually thick and long. When applied to the scalp it is just as sure to produce an abundance of four glossy hairs as a fertile soil is to produce vegetation. IT IS WORKING WONDERS EVERYWHERE. We guarantee that one twenty-five cent bottle of it will do the hair more good than a million of any other hair tonic ever made. Be sure you get the genuine, made only by The Knowlton Danderine Co., 256, 506, and 510 per bottle. All druggists keep Danderine or will order it for you if you ask them. You can go to your druggist and get a bottle for 25c, which will be enough to convince you that it is the most invigorating and thoroughly reliable hair and scalp remedy ever made, or send this advertisement to The Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, Ill., in stamps or silver to pay postage and we will send you a large sample by return mail. The samples we give are large enough to produce beneficial results, in many cases being enough to cure bad cases of hair falling and start the hair to growing again.

Constipation

Will Undermine Your Health.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cures Constipation.

When the sewer of a city becomes stopped up, the refuse backs into the streets where it decays and rots, spreading disease-creating germs throughout the entire city. An epidemic of sickness follows. It is the same way when the bowels fail to work. The undigested food backs into the system and there it rots and decays. From this festering mass the blood saps up all the disease germs, and at every heart beat carries them to every tissue, just as the water works of a city forces impure water into every house. The only way to cure a condition like this is to cure the constipation. Pills and the ordinary cathartics will do no good.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC is a crushed fruit tonic-laxative which permanently cures the affliction. The tonic properties contained in the grape go into every afflicted tissue and creates rich, red blood. As a laxative its action is immediate and positive, gentle and natural. Mull's Grape Tonic is guaranteed or money back.

Send 25c. to Lightning Medicine Co., Rock Island, Ill., for large sample bottle. All druggists sell regular sized bottles for 50 cts.

COLORADO

The way to get the best accommodations is via the

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

WHY? It is the only direct line to Colorado Springs and Manitou. It is the popular route to Denver. It has the best dining car service. It has the finest equipment and most satisfactory schedule, and in the ROCKY MOUNTAIN LIMITED offers the best train, only one night, Chicago to Colorado.

It leaves Chicago daily at 5:45 p.m. and arrives at Denver 8:45 p.m., Colorado Springs (Manitou) 8:50 p.m. Another inducement to use the Rock Island will be the round trip rates of $25 Chicago to Colorado and $15 Missouri River points to Colorado effective this summer by that line. Ask for details and free booklet "Under the Turquoise Sky" gives the most fascinating description of Colorado "Camping in Colorado" has full details for campers.
